

MRS. HENRY BUYS PROPERTY

Master Commissioner J. T. Stokely
Sells Property on South Main Street For $1,560.

The undivided half-interest in the piece of property on South Main street which was sold by Master Commissioner J. T. Stokely Saturday was purchased by Mrs. Luther Henry for $1,560.

A house and lot in Mt. Abbott addition brought $250. R. P. and R. M. Scobee were the purchasers.

Mr. E. E. Lounis was the auctioneer. Mr. Lounis has recently located in this city. He has had ten years' experience as an auctioneer in Northern Kentucky and is quite popular.

INVESTIGATION OF BANKRUPTCY

Of R. Frank is Made by Creditors,
And Criminal Prosecution Will Be Instituted.

An investigation of the bankruptcy of R. Frank, who until recently operated two clothing stores in this city who took the bankrupt law, was held by the creditors.

The morning session was held in the office of Jno. M. Stevenson and the afternoon session was held in the office of Pendleton, Bush & Bush.

Thirty witnesses were examined and twelve attorneys representing creditors were present. Among those present were: Mr. Ashcraft, of the Credit Clearing House, of Cincinnati; and H. H. Glaze, of the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

The testimony showed that in the month before closing, between $2,800 and $4,000 was taken in at the stores. None of this money, with the exception of $500, which was paid to relatives as payment for alleged loans, could be accounted for.

Mr. Lewis Hampton, Receiver in Bankruptcy, has made two trips to Cincinnati to demand the property. Mrs. Frank denied that any property had been concealed.

With a mandatory injunction and order of seizure issued by Judge Cochran, of Covington, the Federal Marshall seized several hundred dollars' worth of property from Mrs. Frank's home on West Fifth street, Newport, which had evidently been taken from the stores in this city.

Criminal prosecution will be started. According to the Receiver, a creditor statement made by Frank on August 1, showed that the assets exceeded the liabilities by $2,000. The petition in bankruptcy gives the assets at $15,000 showing a slipping in the assets in five months of $17,000.

Frank paid all debts to local creditors.

NATIVE OF CLARK PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Ellen Chenault, Daughter of Sanford Thompson, Dies at The Age of Sixty-four.

News has reached this city of the death of Mrs. Ellen Chenault, widow of Dr. Jason W. Chenault, who conducted a school for boys in Louisville for many years. Her death was due to pneumonia, following a short illness, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charlton Rogers, of Irvington, a suburb of Indianapolis.

Mrs. Chenault was 64 years of age. She was a native of Clark county, and formerly was Miss Ellen Thompson, having been the daughter of Sanford Thompson, a prominent resident of Clark county. Until the death of her husband, which occurred fifteen years ago, they lived in South Second street, where Dr. Chenault's school was situated. For a short time she lived with her daughter, Mrs. Edmund Nash, of New York. Two years ago she went to Indianapolis and took up her residence with Mrs. Rogers.

Mrs. B. F. Watkins, a daughter, of New York, was notified several days ago of her mother's illness, and she arrived from her home a day prior to Mrs. Chenault's death. Mrs. Nash, who was in Savannah, also was notified. The dead woman had no other children.

The body was taken to Richmond and burial took place in the family burying ground there.

TRIPLE FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

Bodies of Charles and Amanda Morgan and Florence Johnson Are Laid to Rest in Colored Cemetery.

The first triple funeral ever held in this city took place Sunday afternoon when the bodies of Charles and Amanda Morgan and Florence Johnson, the colored servants of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Matlack, who were killed Thursday morning in a railroad wreck at Jonesboro, Ga., were interred in the colored cemetery.

The funeral services were held in the colored First Baptist church, which was filled to overflowing. The crowd which had gathered to attend the services was probably the largest ever in attendance at a colored funeral. Nearly all the colored lodges and secret societies attended in a body.

The three bodies were carried in separate hearses. As the procession passed through the streets people looked with wonder and sadness at the unusual sight of a whole family being buried at one time and with one ceremony. The burial took place in the colored cemetery.

The man carried $1,000 insurance payable to his wife and the woman carried $500 payable to her husband. The unfortunate victims were faithful servants and were among the most respected colored people of the city.

BABY JACK IS SOME BEAR

Proves Too Much For Wrestling Opponent, And Convinces Audience By His Wonderful Stunts.

One of the largest crowds ever seen at the Auditorium gathered Saturday night to see "Baby Jack," the little bear, show his skill on roller skates. Over 1,300 tickets were sold.

But did you hear about the bear getting arrested? Yes, indeed. The police arrested him because he was bear—and the law says clothes must be worn.

With shoes on his "bear" feet Bruin is some skater. The crowd loudly applauded when "Baby Jack" put a little brick yard blossom on the mat two times out of three in a wrestling match.

FINE THREE-GAITED HORSES ARE SOLD

Matlack & Shropshire Sell "Naughty Marietta" And "Heart Breaker" At Prices Said to Be Over the Four Figures.

Matlack & Shropshire have sold "Naughty Marietta" and "Heart Breaker," two of their finest three-gaited horses, to B. S. Castles and E. P. Springs, respectively, of New York City, at prices, which, although secret, were said to be over four figures each.

"Naughty Marietta" was the champion three-gaited saddle mare of the state last year.

"Heart Breaker" was also a three-gaited horse. Shropshire and Matlack had owned her only a short time but by many she was said to be the equal of the famous "Naughty Marietta."

"This mare is one of the most beautiful ever produced in Kentucky and is of regal breeding, being sired by Highland Bay, the great sire owned by James Gay and son of Pisgah, and her dam was Lady Hon by Forrest Denmark, the premier sire at Woodford Stock Farm, Mt. Sterling, Ky."

The suit was for the sum of $130.50 for damages alleged to have occurred in the shipment of an invoice of plate glass. The suit was brought by J. T. Farmer and was dismissed without prejudice for a want of jurisdiction. Mr. Wyeoff will file the suit in the Clark Circuit Court.—Lexington Herald.

CATASTROPHE IS AVERTED

By Presence of Mind of Jas. Lemons
Engineer on L. & N. Train No. 33,
Which Jumped Track near Flanagan.

Had it not been for the presence of mind of Jas. Lemons, engineer on L. & N. train No. 33, Southbound, many people would probably have been killed when that train jumped the track Saturday afternoon a little on the other side of Flanagan. When the train left the track Lemons threw on the emergency brake and reversed his engine, thus preventing the coaches from being hurled over an embankment, which was directly in front of the place where the wreck occurred. As it was the train ran for one hundred yards on the ties.

No one was injured. Trucks under several of the coaches were broken and new ones had to be substituted.

The wreck was caused by a broken flange on the coal-tender. Every car left the track but the engine.

The accident occurred at 1:45 p. m. The train is due here at 10:52 a. m., but was running an hour and forty minutes late. In order to make up time the train was running between fifty and sixty miles an hour.

All traffic on the road was suspended until 9 p. m., when the train was lifted on the track. The passengers were compelled to admire the scenery of Flanagan and vicinity for seven hours and fifteen minutes. The train carries a diner, however, and all, except the impecunious, were spared the sufferings of hunger.

Wrecking crews from Paris and Covington were sent to the wreck.

Mr. G. L. Waincott presented the News Force on Saturday with a case of his delicious product, Roxa-Kola. The following note accompanied the much appreciated gift:

Miss Goldie Perry,
Winchester, Ky.

Dear Miss Perry:—As you and the rest of The News force have such a splendid taste for the best things, I am sending you the very first case of Roxa-Kola made with our new machinery, and we are sure you will find it the very best Coca Cola you have ever tasted. We tried several bottles on different ones by comparison with the original Coca Cola, and every single person pronounced Roxa-Kola the best.

We will have a lot more new equipment before our spring opens and will have a much larger, and better output than we ever had.

Trusting you, and your force will enjoy this case, I am with the greatest respect.

Yours truly,
G. L. WAINCOTT.

LARGE BOX CAR IS OVERTURNED

Being Overloaded on One Side Was
The Cause Attributed by The Crew on The Train.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 22.—With a crash and sounding bang that might be heard for several blocks a large box car left its trucks and fell over on one side in the street as it was being pulled out of Lexington for Louisville by freight train No. 99 over the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, at the South Limestone street crossing of the Chesapeake & Ohio tracks at 12:20 o'clock Monday morning. Being overloaded on one side was the cause attributed by the crew of the train.

The train was moving at the rate of five miles an hour and without warning the box car suddenly left its trucks standing on the rails, falling south on Limestone street, squarely across that thoroughfare. The front wheels of the car directly behind it was lifted from the tracks, and no damage was done other than to cause a loss of time to the train, and to temporarily block the tracks and street crossing.

The car that turned over was the property of the Central Railway, of New Jersey, bearing the number, "333,771," and loaded with merchandise, consigned for Louisville.

ACCIDENTS AT AVIATION MEET

Albert Elton Dashed to Ground And
W. B. Atwater Has Sensational
Drop.—Neither Hurt.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 22.—Two accidents, neither serious, marked the second day of the third international aviation meet at Dominguez field Sunday.

Albert Elton, of Youngstown, O., while flying fifty feet in the air, was dashed to the ground by the sudden stopping of his engine. Elton jumped before the aeroplane struck and escaped injury. His machine was wrecked.

The second accident occurred to W. B. Atwater, of New York. He had been in the air for more than an hour, competing in the endurance contest, and on trying to land in front of the grandstand, ran his machine into a fence. It was slightly damaged.

P. T. Fish, a 17-year-old amateur of Los Angeles, sent a thrill through the crowd when his aeroplane, about 1,000 feet in the air, dropped 400 feet, nearly straight down. Fish righted his craft and soared away. He landed on the next round, but would not say what had gone wrong. The dip was above the exact spot where Arch Hoxey fell to his death a year ago.

The most spectacular flying of the day was that of Phil Parmelee and Lincoln Beachey, who made six sensational drops. Miss Blanche Stuart Scott, of Rochester, New York, remained in the air for fifteen minutes and reached an altitude of 1,500 feet. Her descent was by spirals and she made an easy landing. Miss Scott witnessed Elton's fall, but said it did not affect her, "as it was part of the game and to be expected."

Sunday's program included a five mile handicap race, won by Lincoln Beachey, an international race between machines representing six nations, also won by Beachey.

QUACK, QUACK

The Goose Famed in Ancient And Modern History Plays Another Important Part.

Judge F. P. Pendleton entertained at the Elks' Club rooms Monday with a goose dinner.

Fifty Elks and visiting Elks were present at the dinner, which was the source of much enjoyment to all present.

The bones of the geese were preserved for weather prognosticating purposes.

In the opinion of those present the geese that saved Rome, or the geese that stopped a suffragette speech recently, served no more important purpose than did the geese that were eaten at this dinner.
